

How companies are thriving in co-working spaces

Co-working spaces are membership based shared office spaces for entrepreneurs, freelancers, enterprises and remote workers. osDORO's data analytics team revealed that more than 84% of individuals in a co-working space found themselves to be more motivated and successful compared to a traditional office space.

Networking opportunities

Build strong connections with like-minded individuals. In a co-working space, office spaces are shared with other tenants from different businesses and different industries. Have a conversation in a less intimidating area and collaborate with some of Singapore's most forward-thinking entrepreneurs.

A sense of community

Each co-working space have different and unique communities. Build strong relationships with other individuals and potentially gain new business from members in your space.

Flexible options

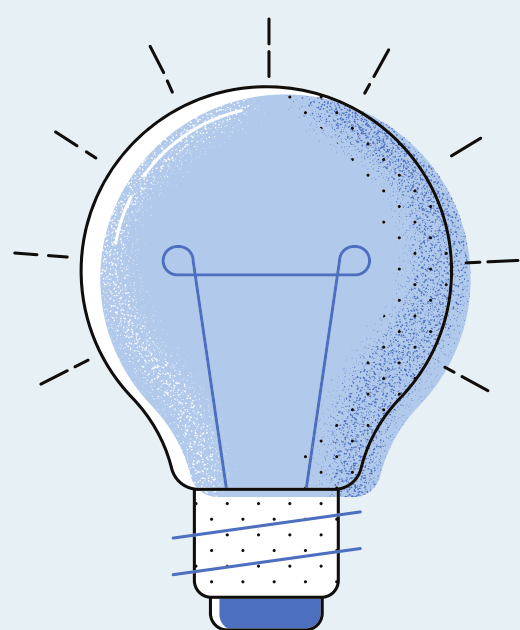

Pick your own schedule and choose which desk or office suits your needs or the needs of your business.

Co-working gives you the ability to work around typical business hours and avoid crowding.

Cost efficiency

Save on overhead costs by only renting what you need such as the correct amount of desks your team needs. Utility costs, expensive printing services and cleaning fees are included in your lease. You will not need to purchase these services on top of your lease.

Creative Thinking

From the furniture to the interior design, take inspiration from your surrounding environment that has been carefully thought out. Brainstorm and collaborate with other tenants for unique perspectives, solutions and personalities.

