

WHY COWORKING SPACES WILL STAY POPULAR AFTER THE PANDEMIC

Co-working spaces have allowed individuals and businesses to thrive due to the combination of a sophisticated designed environment and thoughtful layout.

1 NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

Since you share your office space with other motivated and inspiring tenants, you have the opportunity to network with like-minded people. Conversate, collaborate and learn from some of Singapore's most forward-thinking entrepreneurs.

2 COMMUNITY

Due to the intimate environment created by co-working spaces, many strong relationships are built with the unique tight-knit community. Not only this, you can gain new business from members in your space.

3 FLEXIBLE OPTIONS

Pick your own schedule and choose which office or desk that suits your needs or the stage of your business. With flexible options, you can also work around the pandemic by avoiding crowds and adhere to social distancing rules.

4 CREATIVE ENVIRONMENT

Take inspiration from the well thought out and brilliantly designed co-working space or the dynamic surroundings of Singapore. Brainstorm and collaborate with other tenants for unique perspectives, solutions and personalities.

5 COST EFFICIENCY

Save on costs by only renting the number of desks needed. Avoid excess utility, printing and cleaning fees, as they are all included in your lease.

6 COVID ADAPTATION

Co-working spaces quickly adapted to the pandemic by reinforcing social distancing and introducing regular disinfecting. With the uncertainty of when the pandemic will be finished, co-working spaces have created safer and clean workspaces for post-pandemic.

7 SHIFT TOWARDS REMOTE WORKING

The pandemic has shown that many jobs can be completed through remote working. After the pandemic, many companies are likely to embrace flexible work place policies to allow their employees to work from home as needed.

